Foreword

Here it is, the record of your senior or junior year or year as an underclassman.

This was the year you studied Macbeth or Silas Marner or Great Expectations.

This was the year you went to the Senior Banquet or received your class ring or participated in the talent show.

This was the year you were accepted by the college of your choice or qualified for the Beta Club or made the adjustment to high school and the changing of classes.

This was the year you won an honor or made the team or made straight A's.

We have tried to record these and all things important to you just as you would like.

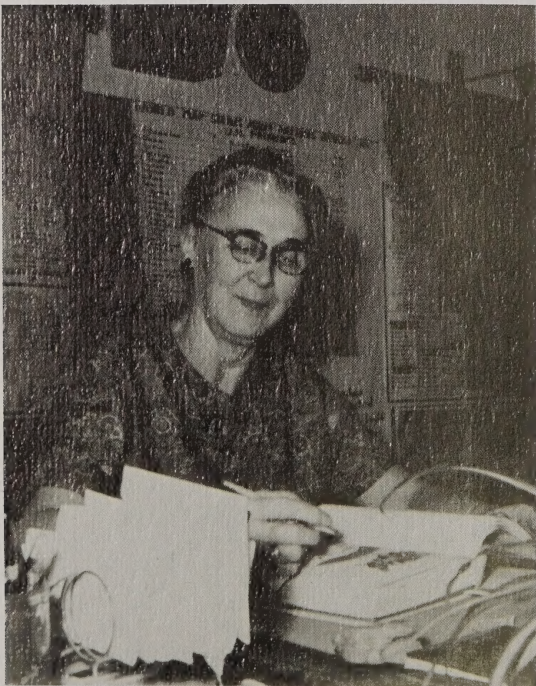

Here are the people, the classes, the organizations and activities that made this year.

Seniors Honor Miss Maude B. Motley

Sponsoring the Beta Club, supervising the Senior Class meetings, guiding us through our last year of school — wherever Varina Seniors are she is there willing to help, lead, council, and advise.

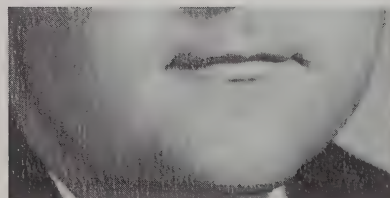

In appreciation and recognition for her faithful help and sincere interest in all our activities, we, the Senior Class, dedicate the 1965 Varinian to Miss Maude B. Motley.

Administration and Faculty

The joys and satisfactions of teaching are evident as we gaze upon the bright smiling faces of our faculty and administration. Always willing to help their students in any way possible, our teachers give of themselves, asking very little in return. They share the interests of their students and seek to develop new interests and new knowledge within these students. If only one student develops a new interest, if only one student gains new knowledge the teacher feels the satisfaction of a job well done.

Not only the faculty but also the administration play a large role in the development of the students. They must keep the school running smoothly for the benefit of all students.

The faculty and administration share a job filled with trials and disappointments but also with great joy and satisfaction.

Thought Through Humanities

Humanities include English, history, art, music, and foreign languages, all vital to everyday living. Their purpose is to promote appreciation of life and to be prepared for the future by understanding the past.

The practical arts, typing, home economics, woodworking, and metal and electricity help students in any field that they might choose to enter.

Understanding life and the elements is a reward that students often find in studying sciences. They also help to teach the students to have an organized way of thinking and working.

Miss Reamy feels it is her duty to stimulate concentration among the students.

Academics

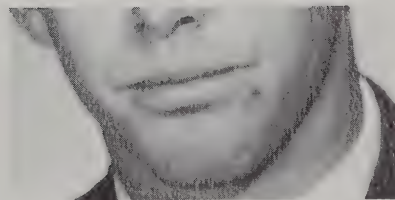

Knowledge is a clear perception of a truth, fact, or subject. It is information which has been gained and preserved. The world of knowledge is at our fingertips — history, science, mathematics, languages, and the arts — all these and much more. We have but to open our books and our minds to thought and study.

To some it is hard work, an uncertain period in their lives, only a job that has to be done.

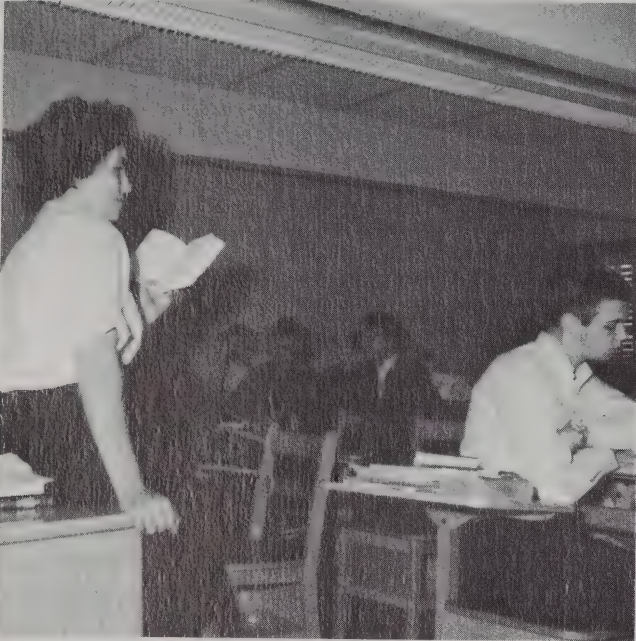

To others it is a grand and glorious adventure.

We may delve into the past through the thoughts of those who have gone before us.

We can have a better understanding of the present and with this knowledge make plans and have faith for the future.

English Often Proves Most Baffling of All Languages

As Mrs. Manuel conducts a senior English class her students are captive listeners.

Eddie Winks and Herbert Owen occupy language lab by singing Christmas songs in French.

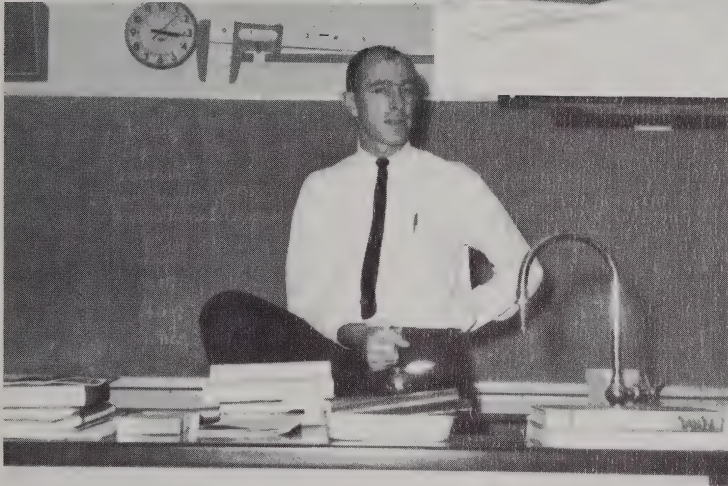

As Donnie McClanning's expression shows lab work is sometimes anguishing business.

Spanish class so often turns out to be a lot of hard work.

Sciences Challenge Students

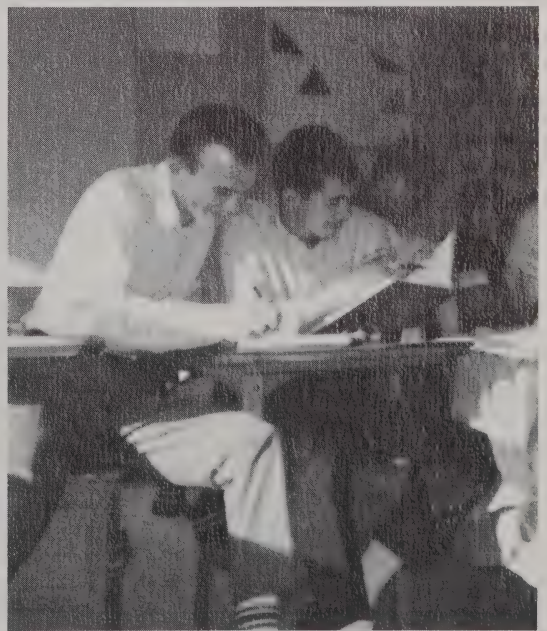

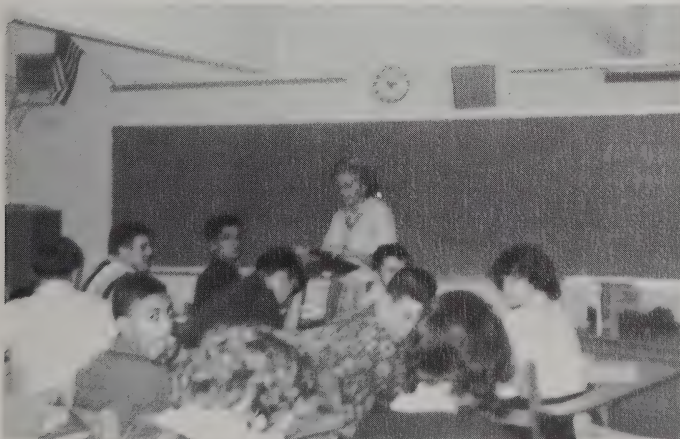

Andy Pollard, Junis Brown, Brenda Allen and Beth Chezik, working with microscopes in biology find a new world opened up for them.

Mr. Quisenberry is caught in the act of giving a science lesson.

Joe McDonough and Bryan York cooperate in order to solve a difficult math problem.

Students impatiently wait out the last thirty-five minutes of Mrs. Sims' math class.

Home Ec Proves Filling as Well as Fulfilling

Mrs. Chapman has trained the girls in home economics how to properly set the tables and serve diners.

Dinah Clark and Joan Robinson prepare to start a baking lesson.

Pat Ashworth and some of her classmates begin sewing lessons in home economics.

Projects Flourish as History Requirements Increase

Mrs. Marks' classes put up an Egyptian display in the library. It contained some mummies, hieroglyphics, pyramids and picture posters. Someone was on hand to answer any questions.

One of Miss Motley's government classes is thoroughly engrossed in their subject. Behind them on the wall are the many remembrances of each year's occurrences.

A familiar sight is that of Miss Motley's gov't. students perusing newspapers in search of daily current events.

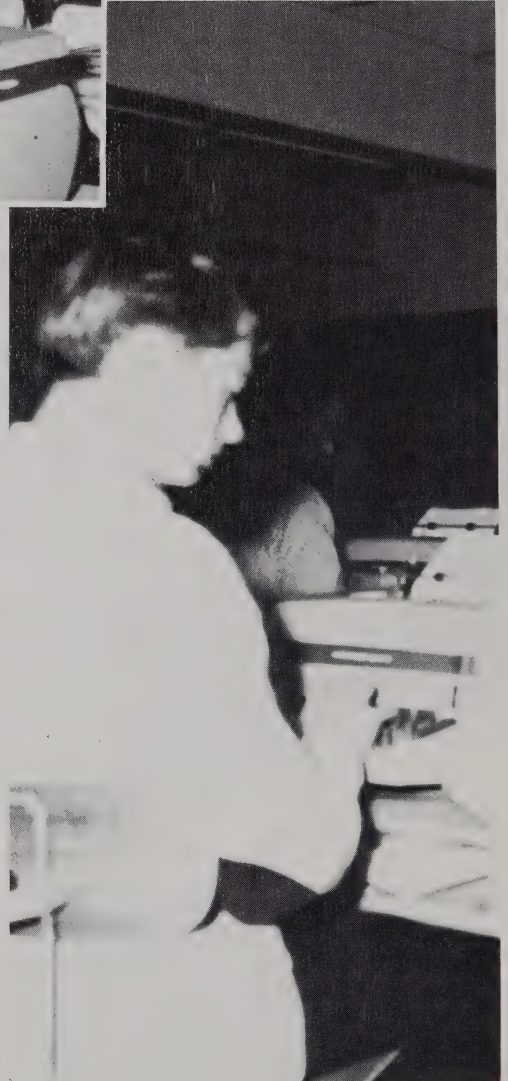

Fingers Fly as Increase in Speed Is Sought

As Betty Briton and Alma Ritger strive for perfection mistakes are easy to make in tense moments.

Larry Garton learns to keep his eyes on his practice book and to keep his fingers on the keys for accuracy.

One of the business teachers, Miss French, also sponsored a door in the Christmas door decoration contest which won third place.

Music Sets Stage for Various Events

Roy Blake, Joann Mann, Gloria Butler, Dianne Blanco, Dennis Ford and an unidentified person work hard at improving their singing.

Mr. Altman leads the band in one of its many practice sessions.

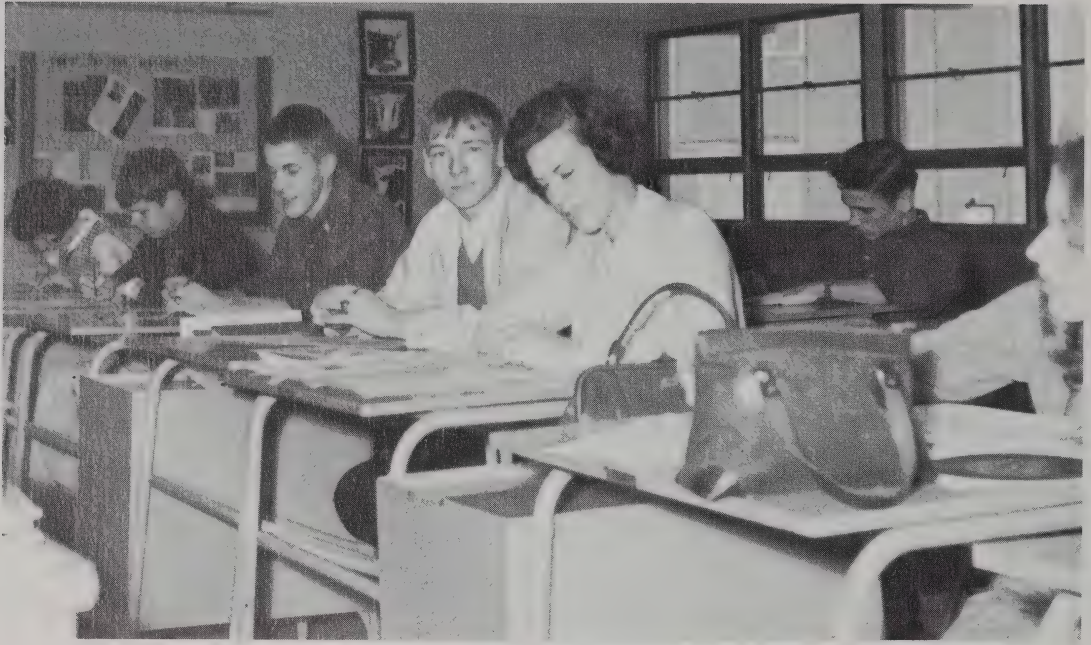

Seventh graders go to their daily chorus class and learn new songs.

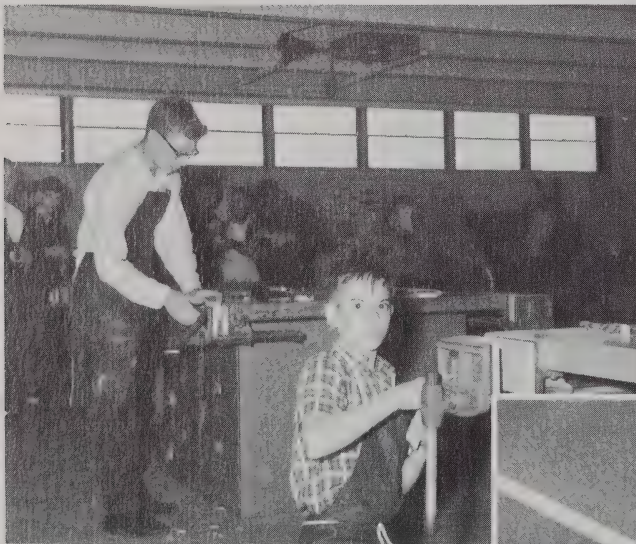

Mary and the B's use their singing ability to participate in the talent show sponsored by the S. C. A.

Creative Arts Frequently Productive

Miss Ikenberry's art students seem to enjoy working as they learn.

Mr. Lance explains to Jimmy McDonough, Billy Barnes and Steve Terry how a drawing should be done.

In Mr. Lawson's shop eight class Eilis Henshaw and Wayne Fussell work with vices.

Physical Education Students

Work Harder than Ever

Gym class can be fun for boys in the eighth through the tenth grade.

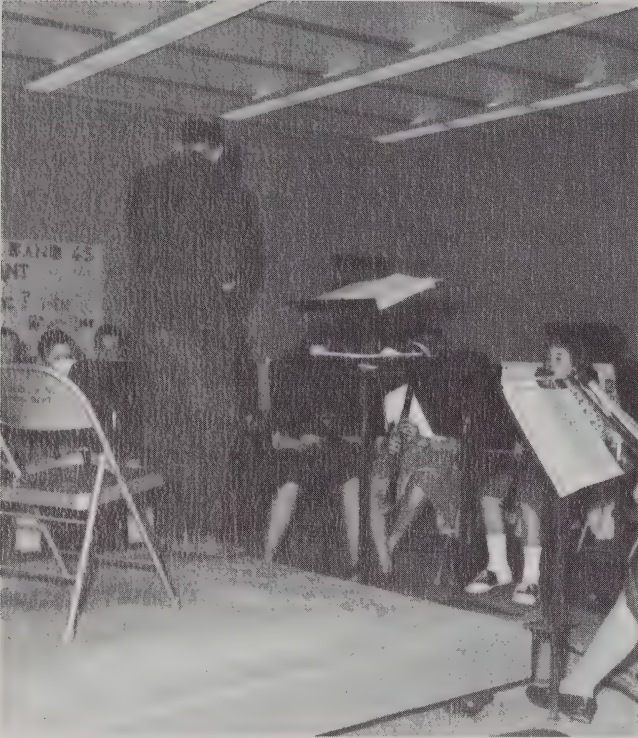

These seventh grade boys are enjoying a game of football during recess, which phys. ed. will take the place of next year.

Margaret McSwain, one of the girls in Mrs. Thompson's phys. ed. class, excels in a phase of gymnastics.

Seventh Graders Begin High School Career

Seventh grade band students struggle to reach high notes under Mr. Altman's direction.

Mr. Poindexter's seventh graders study industriously under his direction.

Mrs. Mansfield leads singing in chorus room.

Seventh grade girls play kickball during last year they will have recess before entering high school.

Seniors

"The more we are able to see,
the more we look for."

"The more we question, the more there is to question."

"The more we experience, the more we want to experience."

"The more we contemplate, the greater is our need for contemplation."

Anonymous

The Senior stands at a crossroads in his life. He has gained much knowledge yet he looks to the future for added knowledge. Perhaps this will come through higher education, perhaps through experience in the business world.

He questions but the answers bring only additional unsolved problems. He has had many valuable experiences but he realizes that he has much left to experience.

He must now stop and contemplate the future. The choice is his. The world awaits him.

118 Seniors

Argice Glenn, Historian; Reva White, Secretary; Richard Nunnally, President; Randy Bottenfield, Vice President; Jimmy Hodges, Treasurer.

SITTING: Miss Maude Motley. Miss Clara Moon, Mrs. Mary Manuel, Mrs. Emma Matheny.

Crisp chilly days of autumn found seniors vigorously attacking textbooks after three months of vacationing in the lazy summer sun. Many activities scattered through the weeks of the coming year — the last for the senior class of 1965 — added much variety to the student life.

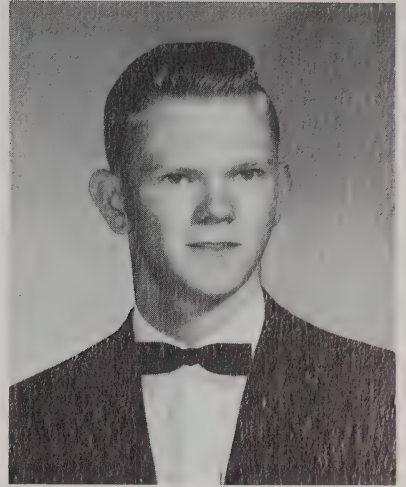

Wintry winds of December brought SAT tests and Christmas holidays. January found studious seniors hoping to gather last minute knowledge on any subject from advanced math to art.

After mid-term, the guidance office was literally flooded with seniors inquiring about college acceptance. Finally spring arrived, and with it came the senior play and the long awaited Junior-Senior Prom. Seniors realized as final examinations drew near that soon they would be on their own.

Whatever their future holds, whether it be attending business school, beginning a job, or entering college, seniors will find themselves recalling fond memories of high school days. Though they may remember with much enjoyment the many activities in which they participated, the years will bring increasing appreciation for the knowledge gained, the knowledge which will always shine as their own star of achievement.

Students Are Leaders

REVA WHITE

As editor of the VARINIAN Reva is kept very busy. But this does not hamper her participation in many other phases of school life. She is secretary of her class, a Beta Club member, and also is active in her church and its youth program.

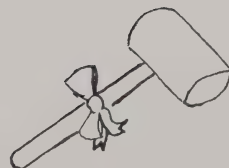

JOE MEREDITH

Joe not only is an extremely active 4-H member, but is president of the S. C. A. Besides these, he is in the Beta Club, Quill & Scroll, and plays basketball. His hopes for the future are bright and we trust time will not tarnish them.

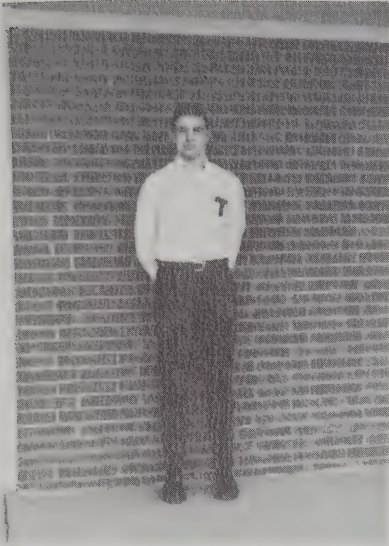

EDDIE WINKS

As a Boy's Stater, Eddie has proven his leadership abilities. He is president of the Beta Club, Co-Editor of the PARADOX, and is active in the Key Club. His outgoing personality has helped make many friends and enabled him to be recognized as an outstanding member of the Class of '65.

Twelve "Outstanding"

RANDY BOTTENFIELD

Randy has made himself known at Varina by his active participation in many of the activities which are available at Varina. He has five years of football as well as other sports to his credit. He also finds time for Key Club and the PARADOX. He has included college in his future plans.

SUZANNE BYNUM

Suzanne, an active member on the Debate Team, finds time for many other extra-curricular activities. She is an officer of the Beta Club, a cheerleader, and is on the annual staff. The future looks bright indeed for this Varinian.

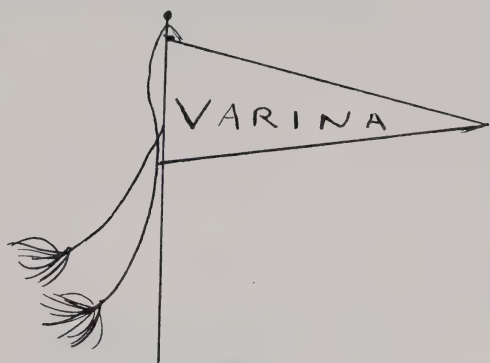

JACKIE CLARK

Not only does Jackie help lead her fellow students as a cheerleader, but she is on the staff of TRUE RELATIONS, and is a member of the Beta Club. William & Mary will benefit from the work of this outstanding student.

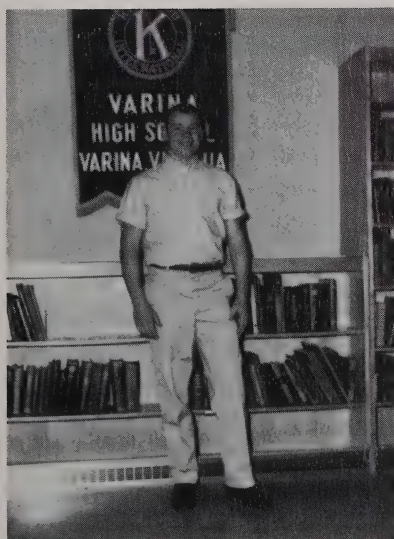

Obtain Recognition

JUNIE KIRBY

If a poll to determine the friendliest student at Varina, it would be quite likely that Junie would be the victor. Active in sports as well as in other organizations, he has proven himself to be outstanding. We wish him the best of luck in the years ahead!

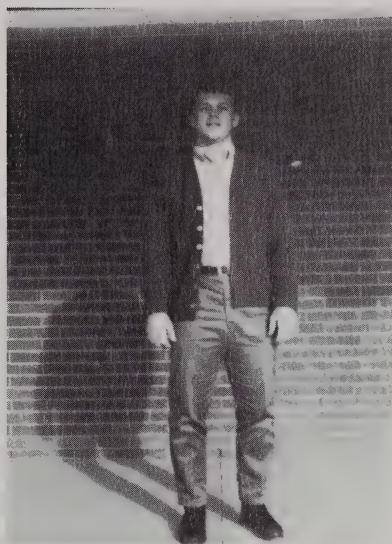

BILLY WINDLE

Billy is another Boy's Stater who is known and admired by fellow students. Not only is he very active in sports, but is president of the Key Club, a member of the Beta Club, and on the staff of TRUE RELATIONS. He has our wishes for the brightest of futures.

ARGICE GLENN

The honor of being elected Homecoming Queen is the dream of every girl. Argice had hers to come true because of her excellent participation in school activities. Cheerleading and basketball are only a beginning to her list of accomplishments.

What Does the Future Hold?

BETTY FRENCH

Betty came to Varina from Highland Springs in her junior year. She has made many new friends here due to her fine personality and her interest in the school. For this attractive girl, who was one of the Homecoming Princesses, the road ahead looks promising.

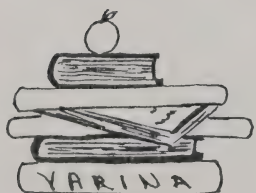

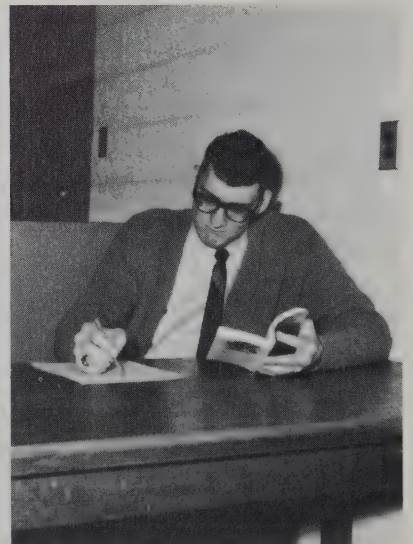

JIMMY HODGES

Jimmy is an officer in both the Key Club and the Senior Class. His outstanding qualities enable him to make many friends. He also is on the Debate Team and the staff of the newspaper. There are many opportunities that are available to a person of his abilities.

RICHARD NUNNALLY

As president of the Senior Class, leadership and school spirit are only two of the many fine qualities which Richard possesses. Anyone is able to recognize many other outstanding qualities in him. This is one Varinian who will go far because of his fine attributes and notable accomplishments.

Juniors

For today is like the very life of life, in its brief course he all the varieties and realities of your existence, the bliss of growth, the story of action, the splendor of beauty.

For yesterday is already a dream, and tomorrow is only a vision.

But today well lived makes every yesterday a dream of happiness, and every tomorrow's vision a hope."

The Sanskrit

Behind the Junior is the majority of his high school career. In his future lies his greatest challenge, his Senior year. Therefore he must live each day to the best of his ability.

A Junior is a mixture of enthusiasm and seriousness. If he puts a little of each into his daily life, his vision of tomorrow will be one of great hope and expectation.

College Boards

Junior Class Officers are: Derrick Murray, President; Sharon Worley, Treasurer; Steve Winks, Vice-President; Brenda Jenness, Secretary.

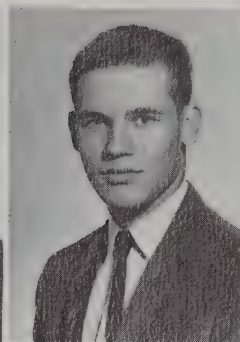

Junior Class Sponsor, Mrs. Ware

Underclassmen

Keep your dreams, for in them lies joy, denied to men grown wise.

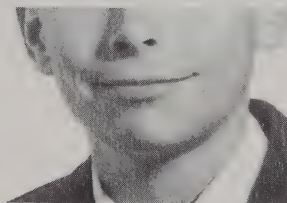

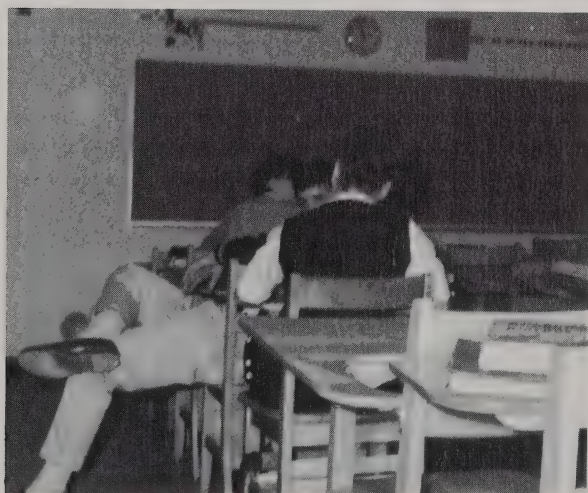

Still build castles in the air!
Still see white ships sailing there!

Still have something to pursue,
Something which you wish you knew.

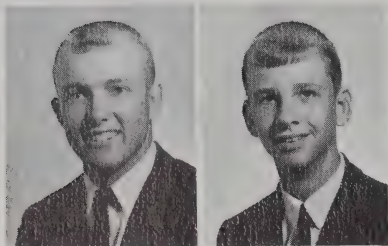

Edgar A. Guest

The school years behind have been golden years. The students have gained respect for teachers and those in charge. They have learned to work together as a group and found many friends. They have also learned the importance of being an individual and developing their outstanding talents.

Ahead are their high school years. A chance to increase knowledge, enrich their personalities and grow in spirit and truth. If they make the most of these years, life will become a great and wonderful challenge.

Organizations

The students of Varina High School make their leadership abilities known through their participation in the many organizations available to them. "Success! It's found in the soul of you, and not in the realm of luck! The world will furnish the work to do, but you must provide the pluck."

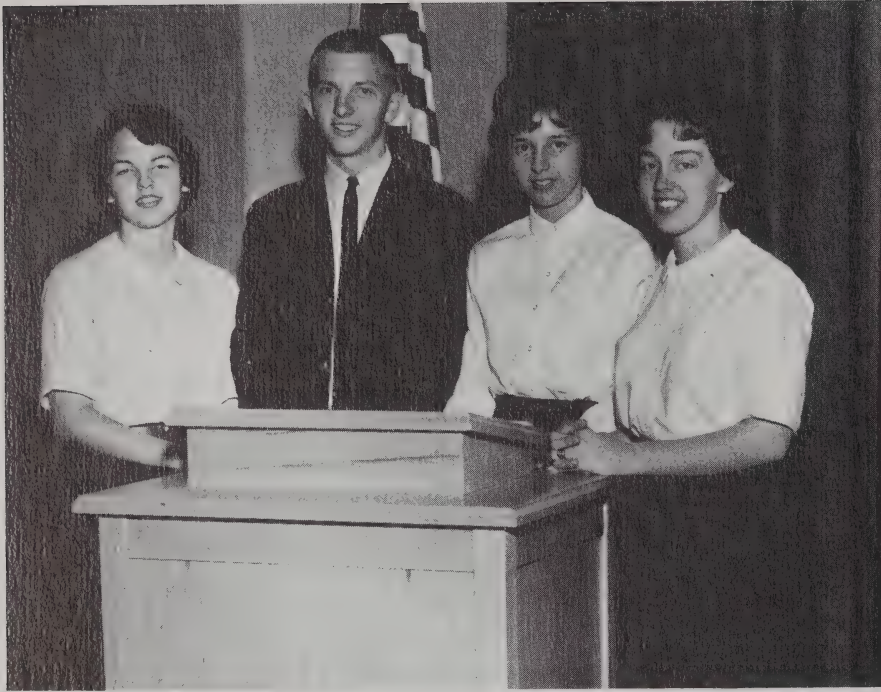

Edgar A. Guest

Every student has a chance to show what he can do. It is the job of each one of the students to make whatever organization he chooses the very best. Whether he devotes his time to one organization or as in most cases to more than one, the success of that organization or organizations is dependent on him.

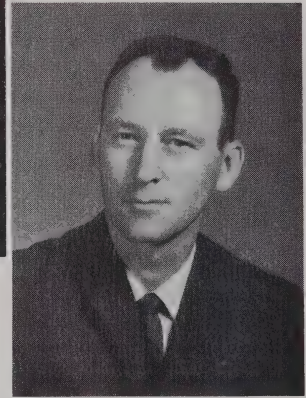

The success of Varina's organizations is a product of the interest and hard work of her students.

Talent Contest

Susan Sweeney takes advantage of the new trash receptacles placed around the school campus by the S.C.A. Committee. Their purpose is to improve the general appearance of the school grounds and sidewalks.

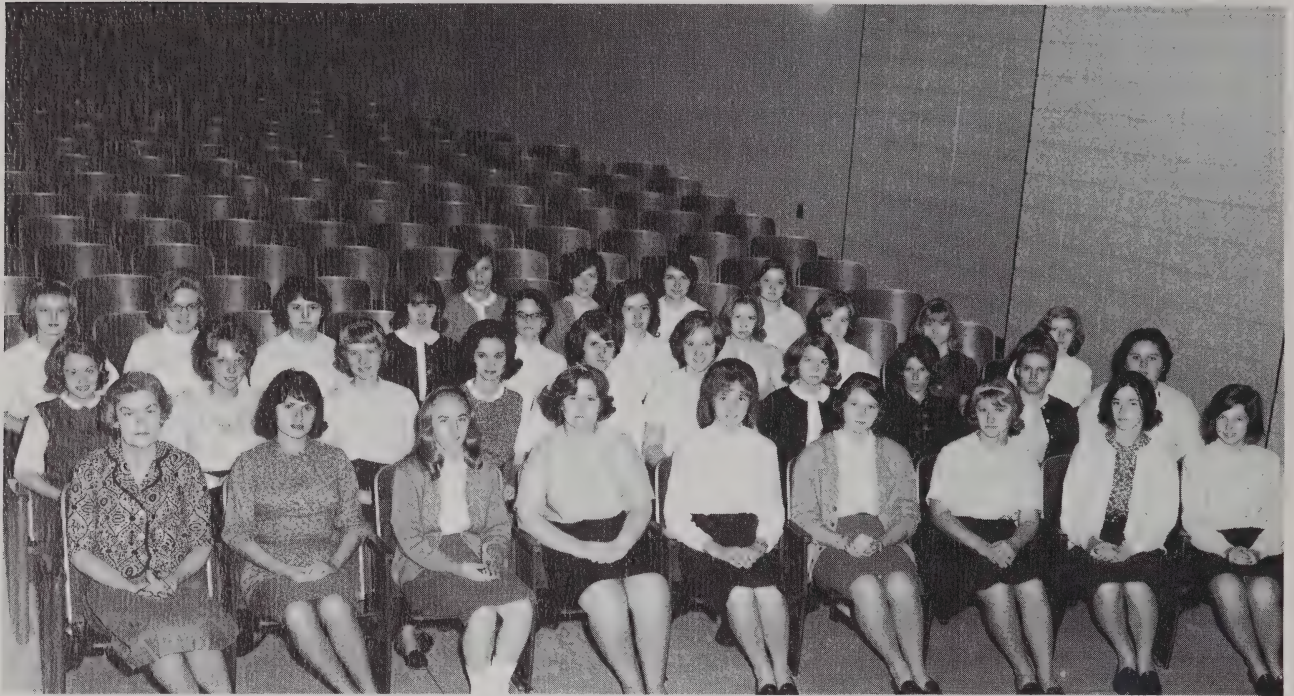

At the book store every morning before school and during lunch there is a scene of rush and confusion. Students flock here to buy pencils, paper, erasers, poster paper and other materials needed in the daily curricular schedule. The money which is netted is turned over to the S.C.A.

A highlight in the course of this year's school events was the talent show sponsored by the S.C.A. Taking part in this show were talented Varina students displaying a wide array of vocal and instrumental music, including bands, solos, piano solos and a piano vocal duo. Vicki Graves is shown deeply concentrating upon her presentation of a musical composition. The purpose of this show was to raise money for the litter campaign.

At every S.C.A. assembly can be seen Joe Meredith, president of this organization, presiding over the proceedings.

Good character, leadership ability coupled with a high scholastic average form the requirements for a Beta Club member. Although regular meetings were not conducted, the group met once in the fall for organization, and then several times in the early spring to make plans for the annual tapping and installation of members. To wear the pin of the Beta Club is an honor and also a responsibility — the responsibility of setting a good example for others by maintaining the standards of the organization.

Outstanding Journalists Chosen by Quill and Scroll

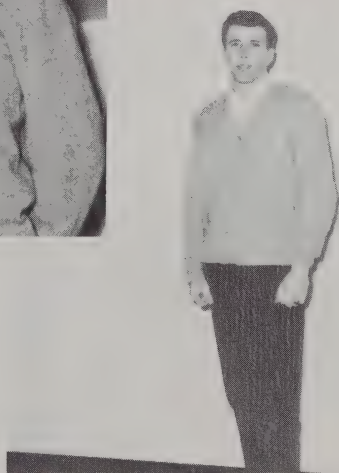

Joe Meredith, Eddie Winks, Emil Soukup, Reva White, Gina Lipford.

Probably two of the most active Quill and Scroll members are Reva White, Varinian editor, and Joe Meredith, advertising editor for the annual. For them meeting deadlines is a constant worry.

The Quill and Scroll is an organization which pays special recognition to outstanding journalists. These members strive to present school students interesting, informative and arousing happenings of the school's events during the year. For their efforts pupils gain a better understanding of school events as well as extra curricular activities.

Another outstanding member of the Quill and Scroll is Emil Soukup, editor of the school newspaper. His great ambition is to get the newspaper out on time while the news is "red hot".

Eddie Winks and Gina Lipford — co-editors of the PARADOX are surely not to be forgotten as two fine examples of Varina's journalists. Their publication, the PARADOX, displays the talent of our young poets and authors.

Paradox Sparks Creativity

Without the help of this competent staff it would have been impossible to publish a successful magazine. However, with their artistic ability and ingenuity their goal was accomplished.

The PARADOX, a relatively new literary publication, challenges the creative ability of Varina's student body. Among its pages appears the imaginative genius of our students in the forms of prose, parodies, short stories, essays and practically every form of literary work imaginable.

Gina Lipford and Eddie Winks co-editors of the PARADOX were constantly on the pursuit this year to find and reveal the promising work of prospective literary artists at Varina.

Mr. Slaughter, sponsor of the newspaper staff, has a consultation with students and reporters concerning the Varina newspaper publication. Throughout the year he has tried to help improve the paper and encourage reporters and page editors to publish interesting and informative events.

The job of any newspaper staff is to "get the news while it's news". This has been the dominating force sparking the TRUE RELATIONS reporters this year. Through their toil and sleuthing to seek the schools headlines they strived to present a paper revealing the school's major activities.

The Red Cross aim is service, in the time of disaster, sickness, and famine and fellow Varina students tried to accomplish these goals this year under the guidance and leadership of Mrs. Robert Marks and Wayne Cox chairman.

Features

Happiness is being chosen Homecoming Queen. Happiness is representing your school on the teen board. Happiness means many things to many people.

The students of Varina High School find happiness through various activities they participate in and honors they receive.

The excitement of a homecoming game or a Senior Banquet is an integral part of the extra-curricular activities the student enjoys.

Happiness is like a crystal
Fair and exquisite and clear,
Broken in a million pieces,
Shattered, scattered far and near.

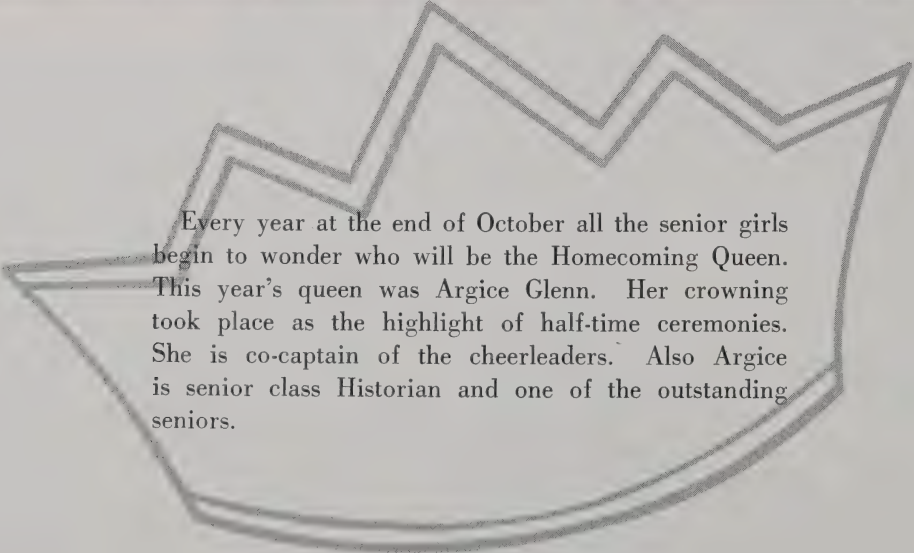

You may find a bit of beauty,
Or an honest share of wealth,
While another just beside you
Gathers honor, love, or wealth.

And there are so many pieces
No one ever finds them all.

Cheerleader Crowned Queen

Every year at the end of October all the senior girls begin to wonder who will be the Homecoming Queen. This year's queen was Argice Glenn. Her crowning took place as the highlight of half-time ceremonies. She is co-captain of the cheerleaders. Also Argice is senior class Historian and one of the outstanding seniors.

Little boys watch one of the many floats pass by during half-time entertainment. This was a prize-winning float done by Marks' homeroom.

The Senior Class of '65' held it's banquet at the William Byrd Motor Hotel. Along with our guest speaker, Reva White read the Who's Who and Argice Glenn read the Last Will and Testament of the senior class.

The senior class had as their guest speaker Dr. Robert R. Marks. Dr. Marks spoke on "The Year 2000."

D. A. R. Award

Each year the William Byrd Chapter of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution recognizes the girl, selected by the seniors and faculty as the Good Citizen of Varina.

This year's Good Citizen is Reva White. Runners-up were Jackie Clark & Beverly Ruby.

Sharon Worley and Joe Meredith make a striking picture in their Teen Board outfits. It is an honor for them to wear these outfits considering what they must do to acquire their positions as representatives of Varina. They must fill out an application and meet the requirements of an interviewer. Once a year Miller and Rhoades has a salute to Varina day in which Sharon and Joe are the spotlighted participants. Among other projects the Teen Board is trying to raise money to send a foreign exchange student from the Richmond area to Europe.

Teen Board Keeps Busy

Athletics

"Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm."

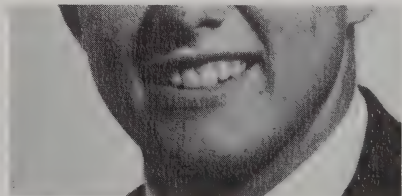

Emerson

Enthusiasm is the core of good school spirit. By participating in athletics the students of Varina are provided with the opportunity to show their enthusiasm. It is not necessary to actively participate, however. The students who support the athletic events are also helping to keep school spirit at a high tide. The Cheerleaders, too, are a most important part of the athletic program of the school. They publicize the games, cheer the teams and keep the student body interested in the athletic events.

Athletic participation also gives a student a chance to learn teamwork and good sportsmanship, thus preparing him for life.

It's not all play, for the team must work hard and practice daily.

Pride in accomplishment is a well deserved reward for these enthusiastic students.

The Varina football team endured one of the toughest seasons in the history of the school. Our team had very good personnel, proving this by having four Honorable Mentions on the all District Team. This year the team finished with a 4-5-1 record. The team was led by 18 seniors. This season's high scorer was half-back Junie Kirby. Junie scored 43 points.

Co-captain, John Zehler (No. 12) meets with the referees and the opposing team captain before the Homecoming game with Lee-Davis. This year's co-captains alternated in meeting with the referees.

Quarterback, Eddie Wright, (No. 10), heads down-field, against Matoaca, with an unidentified Devil blocker throwing a key block to lead Eddie's sprint down field. The Devils picked up a victory in the game, by winning with a 7-2 margin.

John Zehler, (No. 12) finds two Matoaca tacklers a big obstacle on this jaunt goalward.

Tough Season

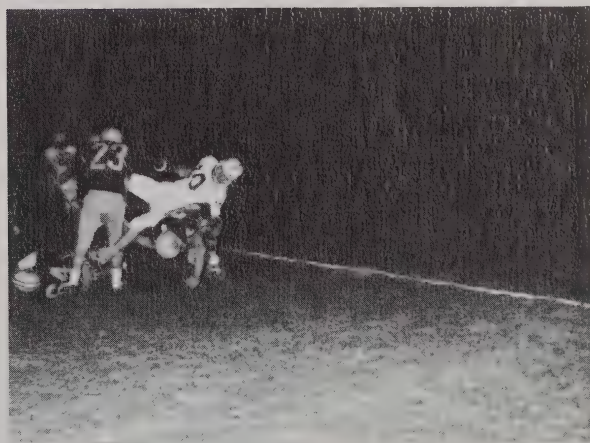

Senior Fullback, H. E. Ballowe, (No. 30) pushes away from a Tucker tackler in the game against Tucker. The Devils came out on the tail end of this game, bowing 26-0.

Five Big Devil tacklers apprehend a Tucker Tiger quarterback. Tacklers are Frayser, Ballowe, Windle, Snelson, and Game.

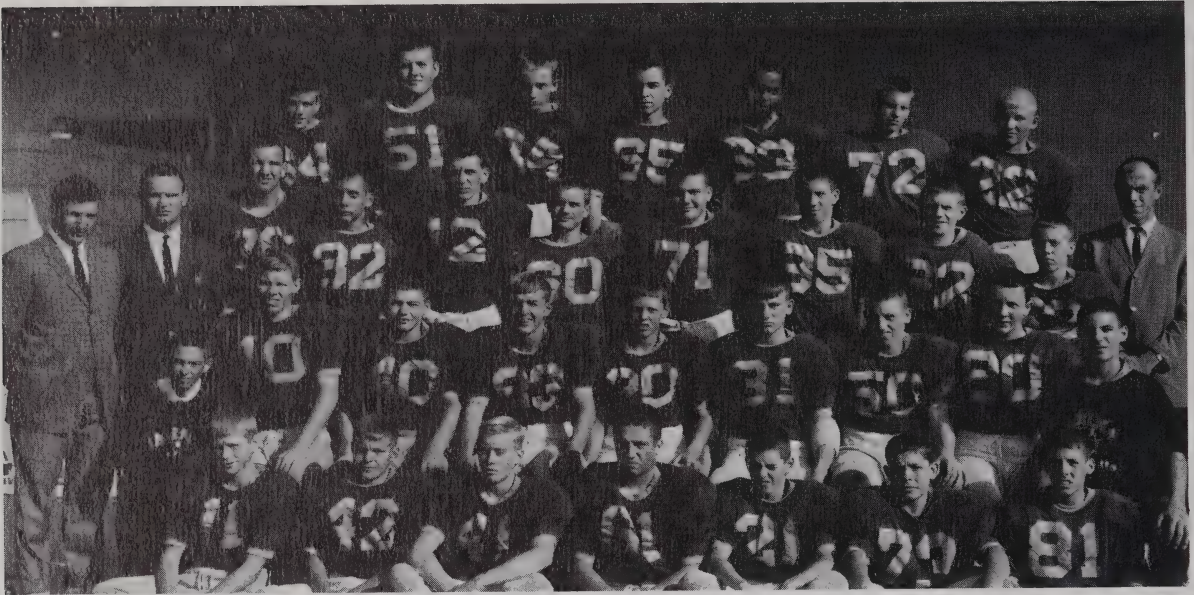

Bradley Patterson, Junior halfback, (No. 40) turns the corner on this run around end against Lee-Davis in this year's Homecoming tilt. A line of Devil blockers clear the way downfield. Big Blue blockers are: James Saunders, (No. 60); Steve Evans, (No. 84); Asby Frayser, (No. 41); and Bobby Game, (No. 72).

This year's basketball record shows only who won and who lost. It does not reveal the heart-rending closeness of many of the games. Varina began its season with three overtimes, two with Lee-Davis, one of those being a double overtime.

Varina's team was strengthened 2nd Semester by Junior Clyde Crawley becoming eligible. Clyde gave a big morale boost to the team.

This year Ronnie Fowler could probably be called the team's most improved player. Only two years ago Ronnie was a manager packing basketballs into the ball bag. This year he was the team's leading scorer, packing the balls in the basket.

8th Graders Post Good Season

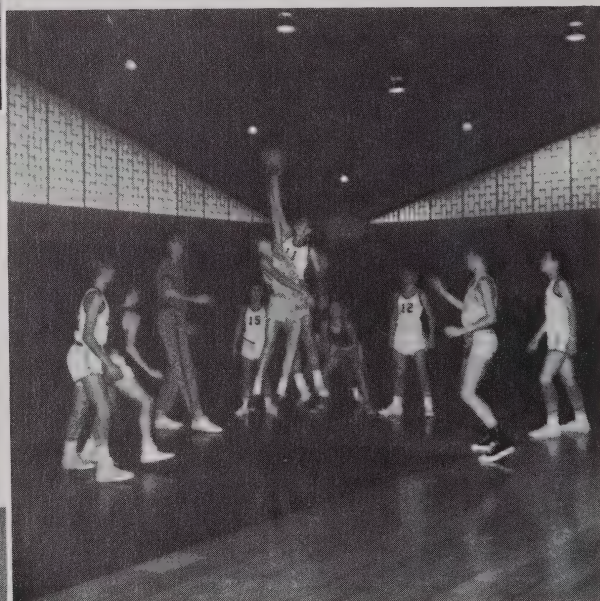

Everyone seems to be going a different way in the Lee-Davis game.

Danny Coughlin gets tap as game begins with Lee-Davis.

Coach Sanderford's 7th & 8th graders proved their worth by posting a near perfect record. Led by Danny Coughlin, John Bulheller, Bruce McNamee, Steve Drauker, and Pete Mistr, the team worked hard to manage their feat.

Advertisements

We, the students of Varina High School, wish to express our sincere appreciation to the advertisers who helped make our 1965 Varinian possible.

A school needs the support of its community and Varina has received outstanding support not only from its advertisers but also from parents who have been loyal patrons. Many weeks of pounding the pavement proved fruitful to the Varinian staff. The ads furnished the staff with enough money to pay for one-fourth of the Varinian. We encourage the students and their families to patronize these advertisers.

We wish to express our thanks to the patrons who have so generously contributed in order that our annual might be a greater success.

Now a student life policy a father can afford!

Insurance: $10,000 Premium: $30

College is costly enough without high insurance premiums . . . yet students should be insured. The Life Insurance Company of Virginia now offers a way to give students ten thousand dollar coverage, for only thirty dollars a year, with no medical examination. Both full-time college students up to age 27 and high-school seniors who will be in college within six months are eligible. And the insured may convert to permanent insurance at any time the Student Life Plan is in force, without evidence of insurability.

The clock is the most frequently watched item in school. As the time approaches 3:30, students impatiently squirm in their desks as they await that moment of freedom.
